2. Utility Easements

2.1 Some properties may at the discretion of the Developer be subject to easements in favour of suppliers of water, power, gas, telephone, internet and wastewater utilities and services, including SaskPower for location of a transformer and SaskTel. The Property Owner acknowledges that the location of any transformer and which lots will be affected by any such easements, will not be known until such utility and service providers complete their design work and the Developer has negotiated the terms and conditions thereof. The Property Owner further specifically acknowledges and agrees that the Property may be subject to any such easement, and that the same shall not affect or result in a decrease or abatement of the purchase price of the Property.

3. Provision of Services

3.1 The Developer makes no representations or warranties that such utilities and services will be available, but will use its best efforts to have the same delivered to the development as soon as practicable.

3.2 Conditional upon such utility and service becoming available, the purchase price of the lot includes water, power, internet service, and telephone utility service to the development, but the Property Owner shall be responsible for all application and hookup fees and costs of equipment and installation in connection therewith.

4.3 Each property must have an Approach, subject to the Developer approving a shared Approach as aforesaid.

For each instance that the Property Owner or any of his guests or others of his invitees to his property breaches this paragraph, the Property Owner shall pay the sum of $5,000.00 to the Developer, it being acknowledged that such sum is a reasonable estimate of the minimum sum of the Developer's damages and losses arising from the time, expense and disruption that the Developer may incur and arising from the impact on the development itself, as a result of such on-street parking. Notwithstanding such estimate and minimum, the Developer shall not be restricted to enforcing collection of only such sum from the Property Owner, and, to the contrary, may pursue any further damages and losses that the Property Owner may incur as a result of such parking.

5.7 No septic field pumpouts are permitted.

garbage disposal from the Property. Construction garbage must be removed from the Property on a monthly basis. The Property Owner shall abide by all other garbage disposal regulations imposed by the Rural Municipality of Coteau #255.
